

Meeting of the “Zhas Linguist” Student Club of the Department of Philology
On October 9, 2025, the Department of Philology held a regular meeting of the “Zhas Linguist” student club.

The event aimed to develop students’ research skills, enhance their creativity, and foster their interest in philological science.

During the meeting, students presented reports on the following topics:

“The Image of Women and Mothers in the Works of B. Nurzhekeev”

“Multilingual Education: Cognitive Development and Global Opportunities”

“The Influence of 21st Century Literature on the Spiritual and Moral Formation of Youth”

Participants engaged in thoughtful discussions about the role of literature and language in society, the relevance of multilingual education, and the moral development of young people.

At the end of the session, the department’s faculty members highly appreciated the students’ scientific enthusiasm and awarded letters of appreciation to the most active participants.

Such meetings help nurture a culture of scientific thinking and contribute to the professional growth of future researchers.

