

Graduate Model educational Program 6B04204 – International Law

Main objectives of the educational program:

- to provide conditions for acquiring in-depth theoretical knowledge and practical skills in the field of international and national law;
- to train highly qualified and competitive Bachelor graduates capable of working in international organizations, government agencies, foreign policy and international cooperation;
- to develop professionals with a high level of professional and civic responsibility who respect the principles of international law and are able to operate in the global legal space.

General (general education) competencies

The graduate:

- is able to communicate competently in oral and written forms in Kazakh, Russian and a foreign language (at least one) in interpersonal, intercultural and professional contexts;
- applies information and communication technologies, international and national legal databases, internet resources, and tools for searching, processing, storing and protecting information in professional activity;
- is capable of designing an individual educational trajectory based on the principles of lifelong learning for self-development and professional growth;
- forms a worldview based on legal culture, academic integrity, tolerance and the values of international cooperation.

Professional (subject-specific) competencies

The graduate:

- applies the norms of international public and private law, international treaties and conventions, as well as the national legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan in professional practice;
- analyzes and interprets the rights and obligations of international law subjects and the features of international legal relations;
- participates in the preparation and drafting of international legal documents, including treaties, memoranda, legal opinions and other documents;
- uses mechanisms for peaceful settlement of international disputes, and understands the functioning of international courts and arbitration;
- provides legal support for foreign policy, international economic and humanitarian relations;
- makes well-reasoned legal decisions in compliance with social, ethical and professional standards.

Learning outcomes of professional training

A graduate of the educational program 6B04204 – International Law is a Bachelor of International Law capable of professional activity in international and national law, working in international organizations and government agencies, applying and developing international legal documents, and protecting the rights and legitimate interests of the Republic of Kazakhstan and the international community.